About NCSS - National Conference on Surgical Nutrition

The Indian Association for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition (IAPEN) is an organization in the field of parenteral and enteral nutrition and promotes basic research, clinical research, advanced education, organization of consensus statements about clinical care and quality control.

The National Conference on Surgical Nutrition is hosted and organized by IAPEN - Kolkatta Regional Center in collaboration with Burdwan Medical College, Bardhaman, West Bengal on 19 December 2013 at Burdwan Medical College, Bardhaman, West Bengal, India.

70, Subhas Palli Road,
Bahir Sarbamangala Para,
Burdwan-713101,
Bardhaman, West Bengal
Mob: + 91 9986795754

Surgical Nutrition is a multidisciplinary specialty that offers coordinated care, both in hospital and at home, for adults with complex nutritional problems, including the management of home parenteral (intravenous TPN) and enteral (tube feeding) nutrition. Services provided by the Surgery team include comprehensive nutritional assessment, individualized dietary instruction, as well as prescription management and monitoring of complex home-based nutritional therapies. This third conference of IAPEN will provide such a forum for multidisciplinary interaction on surgical nutrition.

There will be an Advanced Training Workshop on "Clinical Nutrition for Surgical Patients" based on The Life Long Learning Initiative of IAPEN. The conference plenary talks include Surgical Diet, Specialized Nutrition Support for Surgical Patients, Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition. Cardiothoracic nutrition, Surgical Nutrition for General Gastrointestinal and Vascular Surgery Patients, Case Studies etc.

Scientific Paper Presentation: The scientific committee of the IAPEN conference seeks abstracts in the enclosed format for oral presentation on topics relevant to the conference. Accepted abstracts will be published in the proceedings and selected full length papers will be forwarded to The Indian Journal of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition for consideration towards publication. Abstracts need to be sent as an email attachment to iapenmeet@gmail.com. The acceptance details will be intimated by email. Author instructions can be downloaded from journal website (www.ijpen.com).

Conference theme is "Early Recovery After Surgery (ERAS) - Challenges and Solutions"

About Advanced Training on Clinical Nutrition for Surgical Patients

The aims of IAPEN and its collaborating organizations like ESPEN, NESPEN and other sister PEN Societies are to encourage the rapid diffusion of knowledge and its application in the field of Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition or, more broadly, Clinical Nutrition and Metabolism in hospital settings.

The IAPEN Lifelong Learning Initiative provides stimulating, congenial, and varied opportunities designed specifically for lifelong learners in advanced clinical nutrition research.

In order to promote life long learning in basic and advanced clinical nutrition and to facilitate the academic pursuits of more number of clinical nutritionists, doctors, dieticians from the educational institutions, hospitals and health care settings, The Indian Association for Parenteral and Enteral Nutrition (IAPEN) announces various distance learning/online courses. <http://edu.iapen.co.in>

The present workshop on Advanced Training on Clinical Nutrition for Surgical Patients is based on the module "Surgical Nutrition - Module by IAPEN".

Learning Objectives

- To know the role of Nutrition in the Surgical Patients;
- To understand the limitations of preoperative artificial nutrition in improving postoperative outcome;
- To know the clinical impact of immunonutrition in both surgical and ICU patients;

About Bardhaman, West Bengal, India

Bardhaman or Burdwan (also Bardhaman; Bôrdhoman), is a city of West Bengal state in eastern India. It is the headquarters of Bardhaman district. The small town is situated near 96 kilometers from Kolkatta, West Bengal. Bardhaman became a district capital of British India. Burdwan is an alternative name for the city, which remains in use since the British period.

The history of Burdwan is known from about 5000 BC and belonging to the Mesolithic or Late Stone Age. The origin of this name dates back to the 6th century BCE and is ascribed to Vardhaman Swami or Mahavira (599-527 BCE), the 24th Tirthankara of Jainism, who spent some time in Astikagrama, according to the Jain scripture of Kalpasutra. This place was renamed as Vardhamana in his honour.

Places of Interest:

Shantiniketan (Shantiniketôn) is a small town near Bolpur in the Birbhum district of West Bengal, India, approximately 180 kilometres north of Kolkata (formerly Calcutta) and 30 kilometers from Bardhaman. It was made famous by Nobel Laureate Rabindranath Tagore, whose vision became what is now a university town (Visva-Bharati University) that attracts thousands of visitors each year. (Photo of Gandhi with Rabindranath Tagore at Shantiniketan).

Free trip will be arranged after the conference at 4.00 PM.

The famous Shrine of Sarvamangala, said to contain the remnant of Sati's body, the umbilicus, is situated here. Aside this, there are quite a number of temples and Sivalingams.

The Curzon Gate built in honour of the visit of Lord Curzon.

The palaces and gardens of the maharaja Golapbag. Golap Bag, or the Garden of Rose, of Bardhaman, is a favourite tourist haunt. It is the Botanical and Zoological garden established by the King Bijoy Chand Mahatab in 1884. Famous botanist Dalton Hooker came here and listed 128 types of trees. At present there are numerous mango, casuarina, eucalyptus and other trees in the garden. The University of Bardhaman also takes classes in the complex. Distance from railway station is about two and half km.

At Nawab Hat, On the Burdwan-Siuri NH, some 4 kilometers from rail station, is a group of 108 Siva lingam temples built in 1788 popularly known as 108 Shiva Temple. Rani Bishnukumari (queen of Burdwan) ordered to build this temple. Here each year a week long festival is celebrated on the occasion of "Maha-Shivratri".

Tomb of Sher Afghan: The Tomb of Sher Afghan, the last of the Afghan jagirdars in Bardhaman, is located at Pir Beharam near Rajbati (Burdwan Royal Palace). Sher Afghan married Nurjahan. He revolt against Mughal Samrat and to control this, Mughal Samrat Jahangir had sent Kutubuddin. Both were died at war in 1610 AD and both were buried at the burial ground of Pir Baharam. Distance from railway station is about two and half km.

Konkaleswari Kali Mandir: The ashram is situated in Kanchan-Nagar is an icon of skeleton with a famous Kali temple. The goddess is made of stone and the temple is of 200 years old
